Mrs. William J. Cook

Mrs. William J. Cook, died at her home in Roxbury, Tuesday, March 13, 1917, aged 72 years. The deceased was a daughter of W. and Catherine Allison and was born in Bedford. She is survived by her husband and the following sons, Ross, Reuben and Robert, of Johnstown, and Rush, of Bedford; also by the following sisters: Kate, of Bedford and Mrs. Thomas Rook, of Pleasant Valley; also by one brother: Daniel Allison, of Altoona. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the home of Albert Britt, on East Pitt St., and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. G. W. Faus, of the Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a life-long member.

Mrs. Cook was a Christian woman, a devoted wife and a kind, affectionate mother and had a host of friends.

Wm. Amick

William Amick one of the oldest residents of Monroe Township, died Wednesday, March 14, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Mock, with whom he had been visiting for several months. He was born in Monroe Township, August 21, 1827, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Amick. On December 30, 1852, he was united in marriage to Miss Sophia Feight and to this union were born six children: Mrs. Sarah Sleightor, of Clearville; Mrs. Watson Zembower, of Clearfield; Mrs. W. B. Mock, of Bedford; A. F. Amick, of Washington, D. C.; Sherman Amick, of Wolfburg, and E. Stanton Amick, of Bedford. He is also survived by 26 grand-children, and 15 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held today at Rockhill, Monroe Township, conducted by Rev. Huffman and Rev. Logue, of the Christian Church, of which he had been a member for many years. Interment was made in Rockhill cemetery.

William Amick was a member of the late Capt. Weaverling's command Co. K, 208th Pa. Reg't. This company contained a large number of Bedford County boys, among some of the better known was Wilson W. Sparks, 2nd. Lieutenant, John W. Sams, Jacob Chamberlain, Philip Chamberlain, Abraham Stuckey, John E. Satterfield and others. Companies E, F, G, and I, were recruited from Perry County, A and D from Snyder, B from Blair, C from Lebanon and Dauphin, H and K from Bedford.

The regiment rendezvoused at Camp Curtin, Harrisburg and the day following its complete organization Sept. 19th, 1864, it started for the front at Bermuda Hundred, where it was engaged in picket duty, building roads and drill. On Nov. 27th, it was ordered to report to the Army of the Potomac on the right bank of the Appomattox and put on the march toward the Weldon R. R., where it was assigned to the 9th corps.

In Feb., 1865 just 53 years ago under General Hartrampf, his regiment with others commenced the grand monument upon Hatcher's Run in the early morning of March 25th, 1865, Gen. Hartrampf sent the 208th regiment into action at Ft. Steedman under Col. Heitzelman, doing splendid fighting. The men of the 208th were of hardy habits and well skilled in the use of the rifle, and when they took aim and fired they swept all before them. From this time on the regiment was kept on the march almost day and night, and was engaged at Ft. Sedwick, Petersburg and many other points. This Co. and Co. H, were composed almost entirely from Bedford Co. boys, and did splendid service in the cause of the union.

Abraham Weisel

Abraham Weisel, a highly respected citizen of Bedford, passed away at his home on West Pitt St., Saturday, March 10, death being caused by paralysis. He was the son of Abraham and Elizabeth Mann Weisel, and was born at Bedford, February 14, 1844. He was united in marriage to Miss Malinda Hartman, who survives with the following children: Estella, Elizabeth, Henrietta, Martha, Elsie, Lloyd, William, all of Bedford and Theodore, of Summit Hill, Pa.; Mrs. C. G. Blymyer, of Huntingdon, and Harold Weisel, of Detroit, Mich. Funeral services were held at his late home, 144 W. Pitt St., on Sunday, March 11, at 3 p. m., conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. Albert Eyer, assisted by Rev. K. A. Bashara. Interment was made in the Bedford cemetery.

Abraham Weisel came of Revolutionary stock on both his paternal and maternal side, his great-grandfather, Mann on maternal side having fought under Gen. Washington in the struggle for American independence. His paternal ancestor, Michael Weisel, was in the Pennsylvania militia in Col. Robert Robinson's Regiment in the Revolutionary war.

Mr. Weisel began his career as school teacher in "Spruce Hill" school house, Snake Spring Township in 1865, and for a period of about 25 years continued his work as teacher in Everett, Boydstown, Clearfield Township and other Bedford County schools.

After retiring from the work of school teaching, he devoted himself to farming in Friend's Cove, until about eleven years ago, when he left the farm and moved back to Bedford, the scene of his childhood days his father having operated for 15 years the old grist mill at Bedford Springs and who also had the distinction of being the first Superintendent of Bedford Mineral Springs.

J. E. SMITH IS SLATED TO BE TOKIO ENVOY

James E. Smith, former president of the Chamber of Commerce and vice president of Simmons Hardware Co. St. Louis is slated to represent the United States as Minister to Japan. According to a telegram from Washington, Smith's appointment has been under consideration for some time by President Wilson, and it probably will be expedited as the result of the vacancy existing at present at Tokio.

Smith is popular in Japan and he is an admirer of the Japanese people. He wears the decoration of the Order of the Rising Sun as a special mark of favor from the Emperor, and has acted for years as Japanese Consul at St. Louis.

For months Smith has been making preparations to visit Japan and on his recent visit to Washington held conferences with the Emperor's representatives.

Noted As An Organizer

He is a native of Schellsburg, Bedford County, Pa. He is 66 years old though he does not look more than 50.

He came to St. Louis in 1875 to join the force of the Simmons Hardware Company, working up from traveling salesman to vice president.

Smith is noted as an organizer. He launched the movement to deepen and use the inland waterways, in which he interested all the States lying between the Allegheny and Rocky Mountains. He has always been a progressive factor in St. Louis commercial and financial affairs. At the present time he is striving to have the War Department locate a huge armor plate plant in St. Louis.

The administration, the Washington dispatch says, is cognizant of the fact that Mr. Smith is especially qualified to represent the United States in Tokio, having made a study of Japanese conditions on a visit to that country several years ago, when he gained both the confidence and respect of the leading men of Nippon.

Guest of Wilson Last Monday

Politically, Mr. Smith also would be satisfactory to the powers that be in Washington. He actively supported President Wilson for re-election in the November contest, having been chosen as the Missouri member of the Democratic National Campaign Committee. As such Mr. Smith was a guest of the President at the White House inaugural luncheon last Monday.

Mr. J. Elwood Smith visits Bedford every year during the summer season. Last year he stopped at the Arandale hotel and visited our office frequently. When a boy he worked for the Hardware firm of Metzger & Hartley in Bedford. His many friends as well as the Gazette, extend to him the most sincere congratulations. Knowing that President Wilson could not select a better representative.

Mildred F. Hillegass

Mildred Filler Hillegass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hillegass, died at her home at Buffalo Mills on Saturday, March 3, aged 11 years, 7 months and 4 days. Several weeks ago she was stricken with a severe attack of rheumatism. All possible means were taken to relieve her sufferings and combat the disease, yet she suffered untold pain, but was patient and resigned through it all. Besides her parents, she is survived by one brother, Earl and three sisters, Mrs. Chester England, of Everett, and Marion and Myrtle, at home. The funeral services were conducted at her late home on Monday morning, by the Rev. S. H. Engler, of the Buffalo Mills M. E. Church. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the Christian Church, in Millegan's Cove. Residents of the entire community in which she lived, extended heartfelt sympathy to the family in the death of one, though only a child, was loved by all with whom she came in contact. She was a member of the Epworth League and always took part in its meetings. She was a regular attendant at Sunday School and some time ago received a gold pin as a reward for faithful attendance. Several of her school mates acted as pallbearers, and others carried the many floral tributes presented by relatives and friends. The following persons from a distance attended the funeral service: Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Snyder, of Clearfield; District Attorney and Mrs. H. C. James, of Bedford; Mrs. Elizabeth England, Mrs. Alva Pennell, and Mrs. Clark Diehl, of Everett, and Miss Anna Shafer, of Hyndman.

TREAT U-BOATS AS PRIVATES

Lansing Instructs the U. S. Navy, and Notifies all Other Nations of Arming Ships.

GERMANY MISLED AS TO U. S. STAND.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12—Secretary Lansing went to the Navy Department late this afternoon and handed Secretary Daniels a confidential memorandum which he has prepared as the basis for orders which will be issued to the gunners who have been assigned to protect American merchantmen from German submarines.

The substance of this memorandum, which will not be published textually, is:

1. The German submarines are acting under orders of January 30 which are absolutely illegal and they may be treated as pirates. They have no standing before the law of nations.

2. The American ships which are to sail with armament and crews are absolutely within their rights, from a legal standpoint. The only law which they need recognize is the law of cruisers, which specifies that a belligerent warship must warn a peaceful merchantman and proceed with the practice of visiting and searching before attacking.

3. The crews which are to be placed aboard the ships have the same status as armed guards. Their duty is to protect the vessels in their legal rights. Their position is analogous to that of a policeman who is placed aboard a street car to protect the passengers from strike violence.

4. The armed guard is responsible to the Navy Department for the protection of the property entrusted to it, just as the policeman is responsible to the city authorities.

5. The commanders of the crew have an absolute right to fire upon a German submarine whenever it is seen in the barred zone, providing it does not make unmistakable signs of its intentions to adhere to cruiser law.

6. The fact that Germany has publicly announced that the submarines have been ordered to violate this law should be borne in mind constantly, because the submarine commanders cannot respect cruiser law without violating the Admiralty's orders.

7. The first duty of the gun crew is to protect the lives and property entrusted to them, and therefore it would be unwise to take any chances in the belief that cruiser law would be respected by submarine crews, which have been publicly ordered to shoot at sight.

Mrs. Nettie Musser

Mrs. Nettie Musser, wife of Rev. Cyrus J. Musser, editor of the Reformed Church Messenger, died at the Hahnemann hospital in Philadelphia, Tuesday morning, March 13, 1917. Mrs. Musser had been suffering from rheumatism at her home in Germantown, Pa., for a number of months, and when pneumonia set in, she was removed to the hospital, where she died. The body will be brought on the train arriving here at 5.50 this Friday evening, March 16, and will be buried from the station in the family lot in the Bedford cemetery. Mrs. Musser was a daughter of the late John A. and Eliza Mowry, of Bedford and was born and raised in this town and resided here until her marriage with Rev. C. J. Musser, a minister of the Reformed Church, then the pastor of the Osterburg charge. She afterwards lived at Huntingdon, Pittsburgh and Norristown, Pa., where her husband served as Minister of prominent churches in the Reformed denomination and for a number of years past, has resided in Philadelphia, where Dr. Musser has been serving as editor for the Reformed Church Messenger. She is survived by her twin sister, Miss Virgie Mowry, and by her two sons, John A. Professor in the University of New York, and Paul a Professor in the University of Pennsylvania, one daughter, Miss Virginia and her husband Dr. Musser.

A more extended account will be printed in next week's issue. Mrs. Musser was to all the

WILSON'S RULE

President's Four Years in Office Marked by Almost Unexampled Record of Accomplishment in Beneficial Laws.

WILSON'S BEST ACT PASSED WAS TO CLIP WALL STREET.

Friends, However, Give Him the Greatest Credit for Averting War—Preparedness Measures and Other Enactments.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The first term of the Administration of President Wilson, which expired at noon Sunday, presents an almost unexampled record of achievements in his four years of incumbency have been filled with history-making events. All of these have been turned to popular advantage. The people have benefited to a degree heretofore unexampled.

According to the viewpoint of President Wilson, the most important legislation during his regime was the passage of the Banking and Currency Act. In his judgment, this measure removed forever the hand of Wall Street from Treasury domination and control of Government finances.

The friends of President Wilson give first place in prominence to the fact that war has been averted during the last four years. International complications have been so skillfully handled that no actual clash has occurred. The Mexican controversy came to Mr. Wilson as a heritage from President Taft, but peace with honor has been preserved with the southern republic.

Two and a half years ago fourteen nations resorted to arms. Despite provocations and temptations the United States has been enabled to maintain a dignified position of neutrality.

Legislative Achievements

These features of President Wilson's first administration, which stand out as marked legislative achievements are:

The passage of a tariff act, based on Democratic principles. Under normal conditions the Underwood-Simmons law would have justified the expectations of its sponsors.

Legislation giving the President adequate powers to make effective armed neutrality. The Executive has been clothed with ample authority to protect American rights and property. These reach to the limit of declaring war.

A statute under which the President may make the most elaborate preparations for defending the country against foreign aggression and invasion. He now possesses authority to command ships, munition plants and other property invaluable to the Government in emergencies.

The passage of a law fixing a specific eight-hour day for employees engaged in interstate transportation. This measure prevented a strike of 400,000 railroad workers, thereby causing commercial and industrial paralysis.

The creation of a Government shipping board, under which a decaying merchant marine will be rehabilitated and the American flag restored to the high seas. An aggregate of $50,000,000 was allowed for this purpose.

Better National Defense

Legislation for building the army and navy to a point believed impossible four years ago. The most liberal provisions have been made for bettering the national defense, placing the country in a condition of real preparedness. Government aid has been secured for the farmers by adopting a system of rural credits. This assures adequate means of providing capital at low rates of interest with which to develop further the agricultural resources of the nation and which promises a saving to farmers of $150,000,000 a year.

The Federal Good Roads Law, which make available $75,000,000 for co-operation with the State governments in the development of highway systems throughout the country.

New methods of taxation were established whereby burdens will be borne in proper proportion by the rich and poor. This was accomplished by an income tax, a tax on inheritances, a special tax on munitions of war and excess profits tax.

The Federal Trade Commission was created. By this body commercial disputes will be arbitrated, unfair competition prevented, so that small enterprises may have more equal opportunity with big business, and to secure justice between the public and the great industrial corporations.

Election of Senators by direct vote of the people in the interests of a more popular government.

Improved working conditions of sailors in the American merchant marine service.

Trust Laws Revised

A complete revision of the anti-trust laws.

The Smith-Lever Agricultural Extension Act, providing for the expenditure of nearly $5,000,000 the last fiscal year, and for an automatic increase in that sum until 1922, for the dissemination of scientific knowledge concerning farm operation and management.

The Workmen's Compensation Act for protection to Government employees, and increasing the pay of employees.

To prevent abuse of the injunction in labor disputes and legally declaring the labor of a human being not a commodity open to barter and sale. The child labor law to prevent children from being under industrial oppression.

Established the Board of Mediation and Conciliation to facilitate the settlement of railway and industrial strikes.

Enacted the Cotton Futures Act to prevent gambling in cotton.

Established official grain standards. Enabled farmers to get better value for their products and provide for a better distribution, by making warehouse receipts more acceptable collateral.

Promoted conservation of the nation's resources, by a series of new laws intended to prevent monopolization of timber, minerals, oils, and lands.

Provided for completion of the Alaskan Railway and the opening of Alaska.

Freedom for Philippines

A greater measure of freedom was granted the Philippine possessions and the ultimate liberty of their inhabitants assured.

An employment bureau was established in the Department of Labor, through which persons out of work are assisted in finding positions and the industries desiring employees are aided.

The light of publicity was thrown on lobbies of all kinds, materially decreasing their influence.

An aggressive policy of trust dissolution was started by the Department of Justice.

The Post Office Department has been made self-supporting.

A parcel post system that serves the masses and effectively breaks up the monopolies of private express companies has become a great public servant.

Postal savings are encouraged—a direct appeal for economy and domestic conservation.

At crop moving time, Federal aid has been given the South and West in transporting products to market.

More than $1,000,000 has been derived by requiring a 2 per cent. interest on Government deposits instead of the former practice of allowing favorite banks the free use of the people's money.

The office of markets and rural organization keeps the producer and consumer in close touch and by scientific study and information applies methods for elimination of waste.

The country has been assisted by employment of thousands of women as demonstrators.

The Public Health Service has entered into careful study of rural sanitation, community health and vocational diseases.

Reforms have been made in the administration of Indian affairs.

Interlocking directorates are being broken up.

More than $1,000,000 in back oleomargarine taxes has been collected.

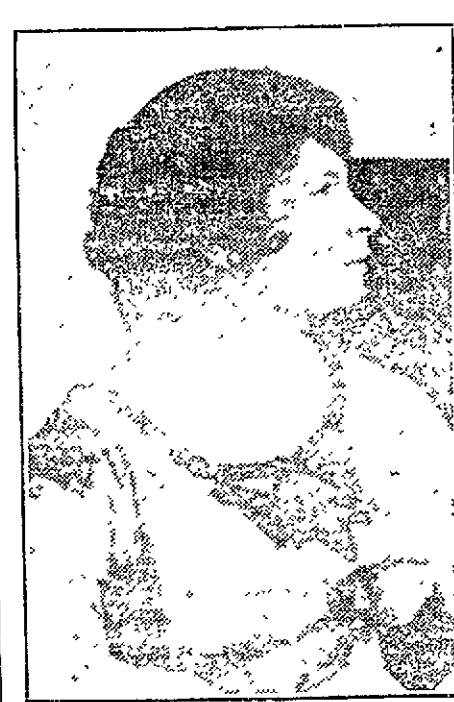

American scenic attractions have been popularized by reorganizing the system of national parks.

The vocational education bill, a measure especially advocated by Mr. Wilson, was passed. It extends Federal financial aid in developing young men and women to follow useful ac-

As a cartoonist and entertainer Miss Evelyn Bargelt is notable for her originality. Her program begins with a group of chalk drawings, and from this feature she proceeds with her delightful readings and sketches.

Following Miss Bargelt's entertainment in a Florida city not long ago one of the newspapers commented as follows: "Her very first appearance created great applause, and the volume of appreciation and enthusiasm grew as the entertainment progressed. Her work throughout was of the very cleverest sort and different from the old time chalk drawer's work."

During the entertainment Miss Bargelt introduces a number of interesting features, one of which is to select some writings, either poetry or prose, which she reads to the audience and at the same time presents it in picture form. Thus she gives her audience a double conception.

Her pictures appear on the canvas as if by magic, beginning with a few simple words and ending with a gorgeous and handsome production. Her crayon work is as comical as her more dignified sketches are beautiful.

Miss Bargelt's highly pleasing personality is another feature which adds greatly to the success of her programs.

activities in practical life.

A flood control bill was passed, appropriating $50,000,000 for the Mississippi Valley and the Sacramento Valley.

The immigration bill was passed over the President's veto. This requires a literacy test for incoming aliens.

Civil government was given to Porto Rico.

The Danish West Indies were acquired at a cost of $25,000,000.

Relation With Japan

Cordial relations have been maintained with Japan, despite the repeated proposal by States of alien land laws.

A new land policy, made effective through the Interior Department, has restored 20,000,000 acres of the public domain to entry.

These preparedness measures were adopted during the first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress, when the national defense programme was carried further along than at any other period of the Administration.

Complete reorganization of industrial resources.

Regular army increased from paper strength of 100,000, to peace strength of 216,000, capable of expansion in war times to 256,000.

National Guard federalized and raised to peace strength of 467,000.

A regular army reserve, a National Guard reserve, an officer reserve corps and an enlisted reserve corps were created.

A council of national defense

Four dreadnoughts and four battle cruisers (eight capital ships) the first year.

Twenty torpedo boat destroyers and thirty coast submarines with auxiliaries.

In the preparedness bills of 1916, a total of $635,844,095 was appropriated as follows:

Army, $267,000,000; navy, $313,200,000; fortifications, $25,748,000; military academy, $2,238,000; army and navy deficiency, $27,558,000.

Record-breaking allowances were made for building an adequate aviation service.

"What is the President going to do?"

"Aw, I don't know what he is going to do," replied the proprietor of the Tote Fair Store at Petunia. "But if he'll drop in here any evening except Sunday and listen to the board of strategy assembled around my stove, he can mighty soon find out what he ort to do."

COACHMAN
The Sensible Six

Sensible because of its power. The valve-in-head motor delivers full 41 h.p. at 2500 r.p.m. —one h.p. for every 53 pounds of car weight. There is plenty of power for hardest pulling — more actual power and more proportionate power than any other car of its size.

Inquire about this feature at our show-rooms or from any driver of a Sensible Six.

Mentality of Octopus

"There is a great deal of difference in the mental attitude of devil fishes or octopi," says Charles F. Holden in St. Nicholas. "In a tank in the Aquarium, which contains three or four octopi, and but one were timid. The others were bold and seemed to be in command. A large California octopus in this aquarium was so bold that it liked to be touched. It would follow people about the tank and when the man who fed it was going to see it change its position it would stroke it with

Results That Last Are What Appeal to Bedford People

Kidney sufferers in Bedford want more than temporary relief. They want results that last—Results like Mr. Easter tell about. His was a thorough test. Three years is a long time. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well. Why experiment with an untried medicine? People here in Bedford have shown the way.

Read Mr. Easter's story. William Easter, 13 W. Penn St., Bedford, says: "I had a very severe attack of lumbago. My back was so lame, I could hardly get around. I suffered greatly and my kidneys were very sluggish, the kidney secretions being highly colored. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they acted promptly in removing all traces of lumbago and soreness in my back and cleared up the kidney secretions."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Easter said: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to again confirm all I have ever said about them." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Easter has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. March 16, 21.

CARE OF THE SETTING HEN

Washington, D. C., March 14, 1917.—The sitting hen, which is used most generally for incubation purposes on the farm should receive a certain amount of care and attention during the process of hatching eggs. To a great extent the care given a setting hen plays an important part on the number and condition of the chicks hatched. With this end in view, the poultry specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture make the following suggestions:

If several hens are sitting in the same room, see that they are kept on the nests, allowing them to come off only once a day to receive feed and water, the feed to consist of corn wheat, or both. If there are any that do not desire to come off themselves, they should be taken off. Hens usually return to their nests before there is any danger of the eggs chilling, but if they do not go back in half an hour in ordinary weather, they should be put on the nest. Where a large number of sitters are kept in one room it is advisable to let them off in groups of from 4 to 6 at a time. The eggs and nests should be examined and cleaned, removing all broken eggs and washing those that are soiled; in the latter case the soiled nesting material should be removed and clean straw added. Nests containing broken eggs that the hen is allowed to sit on soon become infested with mites and lice, which cause the hens to become uneasy and leave the nest, often causing the loss of valuable settings of eggs. In mite-infested nests the hen, if fastened in, will often be found standing over rather than sitting on the eggs. Many eggs that are laid in the late winter and early spring are infertile. For this reason it is advisable to set several hens at the same time. After the eggs have been under the hens from 5 to 7 days, the time depending somewhat on the color and thickness of the shells—white-shelled eggs being easier to test than those having brown shells—they should be tested, the infertile eggs and dead germs removed, and the fertile eggs put back under the hen. In this way it is often possible to put all the eggs that several hens originally started to sit on under fewer hens and reset the others. For example, 20 eggs are set under 3 hens at the same time 10 under each. At the end of 7 days we find on testing the eggs from all the hens that 10 are infertile, which leaves us 20 eggs to reset, which we do by putting them under 2 hens, and have the remaining hens sit over again after she has set only 7 days. In this way considerable time can be saved in one's hatching operations.

Testing Eggs for Fertility. An egg, whether impregnated or not, has a small white spot on the surface of the yolk known as the "germinal spot." As soon as a fertile egg is placed under a hen, or in an incubator, development begins. All eggs should be tested at least twice during the period of incubation, preferably on the seventh and fourteenth days, and the infertile eggs and dead germs removed. White eggs can be tested on the fourth or fifth day, while the development in eggs having brown shells often can not be seen by the use of an ordinary egg tester until the seventh day. Dead germs soon decay and give off a bad odor if allowed to remain under the hen. Infertile eggs make a good feed for young chickens, and are often used in the home for culinary purposes. Most incubator companies furnish testing cylinders with their machines which will fit ordinary lamps. Electric or gas lamps may be used in a box with a hole slightly smaller than an egg cut in the side of the box and at the same level as the light. They may also be tested by sunlight, or daylight, using a shutter or curtain with a small hole in it for the light to shine through.

A good homemade egg tester, or candle, can be made with a large shoe box, or any box that is large enough to go over a lamp, by removing the end and cutting a hole a little larger than the size of a quarter in the bottom of the box, so that when it is set over a kerosene lamp the hole in the bottom will be opposite the blaze. A hole the size of a silver dollar should be cut in the top of the box to allow the heat to escape.

The eggs are tested with the large end up, so that the size of the air cell may be seen as well as the condition of the embryo. The testing should take place in a dark room. The infertile egg when held before the small hole with the lamp lighted inside the box will look perfectly clear, the same as a fresh one, while a fertile egg will show a small dark spot, known as the embryo, with a mass of little blood veins extending in all directions, if the embryo is living; if dead, and the egg has been incubated for at least 46 hours, the blood settles away from the embryo toward the edges of the yolk, forming in some cases an irregular circle of blood, known as a blood ring. Eggs vary in this respect, some showing only a streak of blood. All infertile eggs should be removed at the first test. The eggs containing strong living embryos are dark and well filled up on the fourteenth day, and show a clear, sharp, distinct line of demarcation between the air cell and the growing embryo, while dead germs show only partial development, and lack this clear, distinct outline.

POINT

The big snow left on Sunday under the rays of the hot sun, and a heavy down pour of rain Sunday night, accompanied with heavy peals of thunder and vivid flashes of lightning, caused the streams to overflow and rendering many of our roads almost impassable. So that our road dads are in great demand.

E. C. King of Clearville spent several days in this section last week looking after his property here, and rented the same to Myrl Blackburn, who will move to it from the W. D. Blackburn property near Fishertown in the near future.

Scarlet fever and mumps have rendered the closing months of our schools in bad shape. Quite a number of the pupils had mumps and now Charles Pinsky's three children have the scarlet fever, making the closing of the Valley school necessary. The fever don't seem so malignant as some years and it is hoped the little folks may have a light turn.

Mrs. Robert Bridenthal is seriously ill at this time with a complication of diseases, but under the care of Dr. E. L. Smith all hope for her speedy recovery.

About twenty of the good Samitans of this community, hitched in their sleds and hauled a car load of slate from Fishertown station for Fred Dennison's new barn, which he expects to build this coming summer. Mrs. V. Leppert and Mrs. J. M. Cable, prepared the dinner and it goes without saying it was first-class. George Fisher and A. B. Dennison made a business trip to Cumberland on last Saturday.

We were glad to see our old friend and comrade, Capt. Hissong take his place at the Post office in order to get the latest war news. Miss Evelyn Wonders has returned home after an extended visit with friends near Cessna.

Our neighbor, Harry Diehl lost a valuable steer a few days ago, by a straw stack falling on it. Big straw stacks have disadvantages as well as advantages.

Mrs. Isaac Gordon is caring for her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Winegardner, who have become quite feeble from age. They are the oldest citizens in this section.

Our friend, Oscar Hershberger has purchased an automobile and we would advise some of the other young gents in this section to look out for their laurels as most of the ladies like to take pleasure rides and Oscar is a hustler. Slocum.

Birds Trained to Fish. As hawks were trained to hunt, a species of bird was trained to fish. The bird found to be most adapted for the purpose was the cormorant, a aquatic bird, similar to the duck and feeding almost exclusively in water. It is intermediate in size, between a duck and a goose, and some thirty species inhabiting the beautiful plumage which is a combination of blue and purple.

More about the few Europeans who have never been before, or captured by enemy forces. In 1702, Peter the Great founded St. Petersburg by building himself a small hut. In 1710 Count Golovkin, the first brick house, and in the following year the emperor laid the foundation of a house of the same material for his own home, and transferred the seat of government from Moscow to the new capital.

PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

The undersigned Executors of Hon. E. F. Kerr, late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, by virtue of the power contained in his will, will offer at public sale all the remaining real estate of said deceased, to wit: on THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1917, at 1.00 o'clock p. m., at the Union Hotel in Everett, Pa., they will offer the following real estate viz:

No. 1. The undivided one-half interest in a tract of land in West Providence Township, adjoining Everett Borough and known as the Kerr and Clement tract, containing forty-nine acres, more or less, adjoining the Raystown Branch of the Juniata River on the west, and north, farms formerly of J. J. Barndollar and William Masters on the East and the Public road and lands of J. B. Williams estate and others on the south and West.

This tract is well adapted for town lots and manufacturing sites.

No. 2. The undivided one-eighth interest subject to widow's dower, in all the unsold lands of the estate of Jacob B. Williams, deceased to wit:

1. The three-fourth interest in the unsold part of the Holler extension in West Providence Township, consisting of from 200 to 250 lots, as laid out of plan of said extension and having thereon erected a two-story frame house, barn and outbuildings.

2. About 20 lots in Everett Borough, North and West of the H. & B. T. M. R. R. depot, lots from 40 to 50 feet in width and 100 feet deep. Fuller description on day of sale.

ON FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1917, at 1.30 o'clock p. m., at the late home of deceased, in Bedford Borough, they will offer the following valuable real estate:

No. 1. The late home of deceased, consisting of four lots of ground, fronting 60 feet each on Juliana St., on the East and extending back of the same width 240 feet each to an alley on the West, adjoining Watson Street on the North and a 20 foot alley on the South, having thereon erected a large two-story brick house with all modern improvements, large stable and outbuildings. This is a fine home, and the lots not built on are the finest building lots in town of Bedford. The house and two lots will be offered separately and together, or the whole will be offered together to suit purchasers.

No. 2. A lot of ground in Bedford Borough, containing 3 acres, 126 perches, more or less, adjoining East Street on the West, lands of Louis Hitchcock on the South; the Mill race on the East, and lands of J. W. Tate's heirs and others on the North. This is a fine pasture and farm tract and well adapted for building lots.

TERMS:—10 per cent of bid must be paid or secured on day of sale, remainder of one-third cash at delivery of deed; one-third in one year and one-third in two years from date of sale, with interest from date of sale; and with privilege to pay all cash at delivery of deed.

Urges Farmers to Plant Potatoes.

Farmers should give careful consideration to the acreage they are planning to devote to potato planting this spring as the present shortage of potatoes in this country should the disposition be to curtail acreage on account of the high price of seed, while the demand would be proportionally increased by the calling out of a large number of men in the service of the army.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton has been urged by numbers of progressive farmers throughout the State to call to the attention of the farmers the part they must play in case of trouble arising with any of the European powers and to urge every farmer to increase his potato acreage as well as the acreage of other farm crops which will be needed to feed the army and the increasing population of the country.

Secretary Patton feels that it would be a grave mistake for the farmers to cut their potato acreage during the coming season and says that every man who can possibly handle as much acreage or even more than during the past year should save enough seed to be ready to start an early planting. There is little doubt, but that the demand will keep up as long as there are wars and rumors of wars, and that the 1917 crop will bring as much to the grower as the early selling of the 1916 crop developed.

Secretary Patton says that the growers are not benefitting by the present warranted high prices of potatoes as seventy-five per cent of the potatoes were sold by the growers for two dollars or less a bushel and that in most instances the average price was about $1.30 a bushel. Many farmers received much less.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture calls upon the farmers throughout the State for concerted action in the present situation and the grave danger of international warfare which now confronts us, and therefore Secretary Patton calls upon all farmers to bend their efforts with untiring vigor that Pennsylvania may not suffer a farm crop shortage and that the farmers of the Keystone State may do their full and bountiful share should they be called upon to help feed the armies of their country.

Harmless Fried Foods.

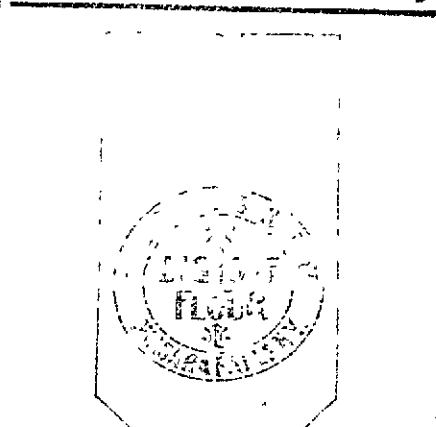

Fried things don't hurt you if you cook them properly according to a paper in Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio.
"Fried foods are to blame for a good deal of indigestion, but the fault is not due so much to the fact that they are fried as to the method of frying. Long cooking at a low temperature is usually the cause of the difficulty. The fat soaks into the food, and the result is greasy and indigestible. No cook would think of trying doughnuts in fat until it was smoking hot. In the same way, potatoes, parsnips, bread, mush, or anything that is to be fried in a skillet should be put into the hot fat and browned quickly. People who like the rich flavor which frying imparts may eat things cooked in this way without fear of the consequence."

Small Farms That Pay Big Profits

"Despite the oft-repeated statement that the larger profits come from the larger farms," says Farm and Fireside, "there are in the United States thousands of small farms that are paying handsome profits. Take, for instance, the case of Arnold Martin, the Swiss farmer who is becoming independent on a 20-acre 'Noah's Ark' of crops. He is an average, successful, and contented man, who keeps hope in the heart of the poor man ambitious to own a home, rather than always be a renter."

ANNOUNCEMENT No. 5

Well lets go, if it is not one thing it is another in this life the last two weeks I was buying coal fast enough to keep the price from going up, now then this week I got the leak of the R. R. strike and have bought fast enough that by tomorrow evening, March 17, I will have in my yard between three and four hundred tons of coal.

The price on this coal is still $5.00 for the long ton delivered anywhere in town or $4.60 at the yard.

Say do you know we have some queer people in this town, today, so queer that they cannot do business themselves, but they are always ready to tell the other fellow how to do his. Also some people in business in this town if sent out to sell Gold Dollars at 90c a piece they could not do so.

They are here believe me, I am glad that I have sold the moving picture business known as the Lincoln Highway Theatre, because it did certainly worry some people a good deal and take it from me they will worry a whole lot more within the next six months.

On January 1st, I was doing business on the streets of Bedford with a $49.00 team and today I am still doing business with the same team, now watch me get them a new suit, I mean a new set of harness and new wagon and that will be going some. I will do this if I sell enough of coal.

Remember you will not always be able to buy six and seven dollar coal at five but let me say this to you, I hope it will not be long before you can buy it for a whole lot less. I am in position to drop the price just as soon as the bottom drops out of the business.

We all know that everything is too high and I will mention one thing in particular POTATOES. We have quit eating them at our house because they taste too much like money. Say you all know the history of the old Lee Co., it is not necessary for me to tell you anything further.

If I had started out January 1st, 1917 and offered the people of Bedford County a thousand dollars worth of stock in this concern for 30c they would have told me there was something wrong with my upper story and that I was getting nutty. Do you know that today I could start a company or a partnership business very easily, as I have had several applications to do so.

I positively will not do either and will give but one reason why I will not. Suppose some poor person or rich as the case may be would run out of coal or wood on one of these cold mornings, I would then have to take up the matter with the president or directors and while they were thinking the matter over and figuring the cost and profit this unfortunate one would have to suffer, which would not be right.

Take it from me I will not let any one in this beautiful town of Bedford suffer if the matter is called to my attention.

If you think I do not love Bedford just ask Moses Lippel, who is making his home at the Big Grand Central Hotel, I asked him how long he was away from Bedford when he moved some years ago, he told me eight months and he said that was seven months and three weeks too long. What do you know about that?

I am in position to furnish you with any amount of coal whether 10 lbs. or 1000 tons. It is a car load you want I can put it on any siding between Mt. Dallas and State Line for less money than you can, and I have men at both ends of the R. R. who are in the mining business to back me up on this statement.

If you are in the market today for a carload of coal whether you are a dealer or not and come to me for a price all you must do is to get the quotations from anywhere you please and if I cannot give it to you for a lower price after I have seen your quotations, I will gladly make you a present of a solid car of coal all charges paid.

Get this right and do not make any mistake on it as I am backed by men who cannot let me stick. Remember this is a very bold assertion but it by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

is only too true, and it is not for a day or a week but for as long as I am doing business anywhere, now watch me take care of this business. If you catch me doing any thing that is not straight or honest or butting in on other people's business without their permission, I promise that I will make you a present of a 50 ton car of coal delivered any where you say all charges paid.

I expect to stay in Bedford just as long as I get a square deal and if by running my business the way I believe it should be run I should lose every customer I have down to the last one, I will call on him and tell him that it is all up with me, and will then dump a 50 ton car of coal wherever he says all charges paid, and will gather up my faithful help and expensive team and go to some city taking my secrets of course with me, and within five years, I will return with a barrel of money and will then help any one who is in need. Do your business where ever you please but remember, if you do any with me I expect to be paid for it, if you are able.

If for business or a favor, I am at your service, at all hours.

DR. HENRY HOUCK, DEAD

Three Times Elected Secretary of Internal Affairs. Superintendent of Schools of Lebanon County, and Deputy State Superintendent of Schools for Years.

Dr. Henry Houck, died at his home in Lebanon, Lebanon County, at 12:30 last Tuesday morning from paralysis of the heart. He had been failing for a year or more. He was 81 years old, the 6th of March.

Dr. Houck has been before the Bedford County teachers at their Institutes several times, last December being the last. He has spoken before more Teachers' Institutes probably than any other Pennsylvania Educator and was known by more people of all walks of life than any citizen of the State. Governor M. G. Brumbaugh who was a close personal friend pays the following tribute:

"The death of Henry Houck is a great loss to this commonwealth. Personally it is a great loss, for I knew him well and loved him sincerely. His long and helpful public service has endeared him to thousands. His sympathy for others was boundless and his services were given freely and without stint. More people will rise to call him blessed than for any other single individual in our state.

"He carried, as a schoolman, the light of a sane educational policy into the entire country and to the islands of the sea. His death will be mourned by thousands of firesides in every part of our land.

"He was, to the last, cheerful, helpful, happy in his altruistic labors and the vacant place his death creates will long remain. He was the best exemplar of the gospel of sunshine I ever knew. His life was a benediction and his death a calamity. We love him and we shall cherish with sacred concern the memory of his gentle, noble life."

Temperance

Mrs. Ella M. George of Beaver Falls, President of the Pennsylvania Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will speak in the Methodist Church, Bedford, on Sunday evening, March 18, 1917, at 7:30 o'clock.

As this is Mrs. George's first visit to Bedford, it is hoped she will be greeted by a large audience.

Members of the W. C. T. U., are requested to attend the meeting in a body and assemble in the Lecture room of the Church at 7:15 p. m.

The speaker will have a message for all, particularly for those interested in State and National prohibition.

THE GAZETTE $1.50 A YEAR

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
PROCLAMATION

Whereas, The demand for good roads in this Commonwealth is universal and increasingly insistent;

Whereas, The rapid development of our transportation routes is essential to the wellbeing of our people. Our great agricultural interests are largely dependent upon the development and upkeep of our high ways. There must speedily be established an all-year, satisfactory highway service from our farms to our markets and market stations. Producers and consumer alike require this service. With the steady increase in the number of automobiles used by our people in passing from one business center to another the importance of good highways is increasingly manifest. As we open our State to visitors and citizens alike we shall find the scenic splendor of Pennsylvania increasingly appealing and our highways increasingly important;

Whereas, In every town and city and in many rural communities many of our leading citizens, imbued with high civic purposes, have formed important bodies to promote good roads, organizing voluntarily associations such as Chamber of Commerce, civic associations, agricultural organizations, automobile clubs, county organizations, and state highway organizations,—all of which is service of the loftiest character and worthy of all commendation. These, together with the press of the Commonwealth, have all commended the plan of observing a state-wide good roads day;

Whereas, On Good Roads Day in 1916 upward of fifty thousand citizens gave freely the day to work upon the roads, five thousand, eight hundred and sixty-nine teams were given and one thousand, one hundred and twenty-one drags added to the success of the effort. Approximately four thousand, seventy-two miles of roads were treated. The judges of the courts in many counties joined the Executive in issuing proclamations. Many splendid women provided free lunches for the workers. Many large corporations with cordial good will gave of their men to aid the movement, and generally our people entered with zeal and intelligence upon the effort to make the day the great success its purpose merited.

Therefore, I Martin G. Brumbaugh, Governor of this Commonwealth, fully in accord with the most enlightened and progressive spirit of our people and anxious in every way at my disposal to encourage and support the people in their laudable desire to secure good roads throughout the Commonwealth, to the end that this state-wide interest may be heartily promoted and that we may speedily secure a system of highways worthy of our people and their activities and that, even with inadequate appropriations we may establish safe, comfortable and permanent avenues of travel, do make and publish this proclamation:

That each and every supervisor of the several townships in this Commonwealth is obligated by law and in good conscience to give this movement for good roads cordial support and to help make this day memorable in the forward movement for better roads;

That all our citizens having a patriotic regard for this great Commonwealth shall, so far as possible, plan their personal duties in such manner as to give this entire day to the improvement of our highways. When this is not possible, I ask them to make such contributions in money as will enable the local authorities to add to the substantial good the day should accomplish;

That all owners of automobiles, living in cities or town repair on this day to the country and volunteer their services to the end that their services may add to the safety and comfort of themselves and others when traveling upon our highways;

That this may be a state-wide movement, memorable for the great good it shall do in the improvement of our highways and in fostering an increased sentiment for good roads everywhere in the State, in all of which the State Department of Highways will most heartily co-operate, I hereby designate and set aside

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1917, as State-Wide Good Roads Day in Pennsylvania.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this nineteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and seventeen and of the Commonwealth, the one hundred and forty-first.

THE HOUSE OF SERVICE
Either Piano or Player Piano.

Anticipating the big advance in manufacturing cost on January 1, 1917, we placed large contracts for FOSTER PIANOS and PLAYER-PIANOS as early as last August. The extraordinary demand made on the factory however during the Holiday season together with the frightful congestion of freight traffic delayed our shipments to such an extent that the bulk of our orders was not filled until after Xmas and during the last few weeks. As a result our Cumberland store as well as our big warehouses are filled to overflowing with FOSTER PIANOS AND PLAYERS. And we must find a quick outlet of this surplus stock.

Foster Player 40 Months To Pay $409
Foster Piano $259

These are all brand new instruments fresh from the factory, the same old reliable FOSTER PIANOS and PLAYERS which we have sold for 25 years. The instruments are standard as bread and butter. The special prices named above are even lower than the regular prices that prevailed on Foster goods prior to the big advance January 1st, which advance is $75 to $100 per instrument according to the model.

$5.00 sends the Piano to your home. $10.00 sends the Player to your home. Send your $5.00 today or send your $10.00 which ever you want—the Piano or Player Piano. Free Stool, Free Bench, Free Music Rolls, Cash Bonus. Free Insurance.

to all civilized Governments except Germany:

"In view of the announcement of the Imperial German Government on Jan. 31, 1917, that all ships, those of neutrals included, met within certain zones of the high seas would be sunk without any precautions being taken for the safety of the persons on board, and without the exercise of visit and search, the Government of the United States has determined to place upon all American merchant vessels sailing through the barred zones an armed guard for the protection of the vessels and the lives of the persons on board

The Swiss Minister, Dr. Ritter, received a copy of this communication, and although he was not officially requested to transmit it to Berlin it is assumed he has already taken steps to place it before the German Government so that the Kaiser cannot plead he has not been informed of the action of this Government as the possible excuse for an attack upon an American vessel and the consequent destruction of a submarine

To Get Orders by Wire

When he presented the memorandum to Mr. Daniels, Secretary Lansing disposed of the subject as far as the State Department is concerned. The memorandum has been turned over to Admiral Benson, Chief of the Bureau of Operations. To-night Admiral Benson will dictate orders to the gun crews, and to-morrow they will be sent by wire and wireless to the commandants of various navy yards throughout the country and the insular possessions, who will transmit them to the men whose duty it will be to see that they are carried out.

In preparing his memorandum, Secretary Lansing adhered to the fundamental principles of international law covering the rights of a neutral to protect its own shipping, but he brushed aside with scant consideration all the false technicalities with which Germany has sought to embarrass Government which desired to protect shipping for their own interests.

In order that the American record may be clear in every detail before an armed ship leaves a port of this country, Secretary Lansing took the step of informing all Governments with which the United States has diplomatic relations of the determination of this Government to protect its shipping.

Acted on Wilson's Order

In taking this step just before turning the policy over to the Navy Department, Secretary Lansing was acting under the orders of President Wilson, who has insisted from the beginning of the controversy with Berlin that Germany shall not even find a technical flaw in the record of this Government and put it forward as a possible excuse for violating the law or the rights of American citizens.

This is the policy to which the President has clung for more than two years, and Secretary Lansing saw that it was carried out to-day when the following note was sent to all civilized governments except Germany:

An attempt has been made within the last few days to give the impression that the Government intended to deny protection to ships carrying ammunition and other munitions of war. This attempt is without any foundation in fact.

Clearance Carries Rights

The State Department has decided that every ship which has a right to leave an American port has the right to be protected by American guns and American gunners. The mere fact that clearance papers are granted to ships proves, in the judgment of the State Department, that they must be accorded the rights given to them by cruiser law, and when an attempt is made to take away those rights it is a duty to protect them.

The Administration is anxious that this fact shall be thoroughly understood.

War Depends on Germany

The State Department is awaiting the reception which its announcement receives in Berlin, because Germany has already threatened to classify such ships bearing arms as warships. In a note of Feb. 10, 1916 the German Government stated:

"The German Government has no doubt that a merchantman assumes a warlike character by armament with guns, regardless of whether the guns are intended to serve for defense or attacks."

On the strength of this announcement, if a German submarine attacks an armed American ship it will be tantamount to attacking a warship or other national ship, and will therefore be a clear-cut legal as well as actual cause of war.

The French liner, Rochambeau, armed fore and aft, was permitted by the Government to-day to clear from New York. The ship arrived last week, and the New York port authorities reported the case to the Treasury Department, which transmitted the report to-day to the State Department. The report was acted upon by the State Department immediately, the New York authorities being notified at once by the Treasury of the State Department's ruling.

The Rochambeau's clearance creates a precedent which is expected to be followed hereafter in cases of merchant ships of the Entente Allies carrying armament in excess of that described in the State Department's formal regulations governing the granting of clearance to belligerent owned vessels armed with guns

NOTICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—
Notice is hereby given that The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by action taken on February 20, 1917, has determined to investigate the conditions existing at a grade crossing at a point where the tracks of the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad Company cross State Highway Route No. 39, at station 255+36, of said route, near Mt. Dallas Station, in Snake Spring Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, with a view to determining whether said crossing at grade is a dangerous crossing and should be relocated, altered or abolished and to determining the plans and specifications and just and reasonable terms and conditions upon which such relocation, alteration or abolition should be undertaken, if at all.

In accordance with this determination of the Commission a public hearing will be held on this matter in the rooms of the Commission in the city of Harrisburg at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon on the 28th day of March, 1917, at which time and place all persons in interest may appear and be heard, if desired.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.
Attest: A. B. MILLER, Secretary.
Mar. 16-23.

Cafeteria A Success
The "Cafeteria" held last Thursday afternoon and evening by the Bedford Civic Club in the Bedford Garage was a decided success in every particular. The affair was unusually well attended and the Club swells its funds by $42.80. The room was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being yellow and white, and the National colors being conspicuously displayed. The lunch served was dainty and palatable and the music most enjoyable. The thanks of the Club is publicly tendered to the "Civic Club Orchestra", Miss Florence Smith, and the Junior Choir of St. Thomas' Catholic Church for the music rendered by them; to F. S. Sammel and Company for their piano, P. C. Pate for chairs, Dr. L. D. Blackwelder for the spacious room and to the merchants and friends for their generous contributions.

Rev. J. R. Dalling, of Everett gave an interesting talk on "Civics" at the meeting of the Club held Monday evening.

John Jacob Wolfe

John Jacob Wolf, died at the home at Wolfburg on Wednesday,

March 14, from an attack of pneumonia. He was the son of John Jacob and Mary Wolfe and was born March 17, 1835, at Wolfburg. On March 19, 1858, he was united in marriage to Miss Ruth Manspeaker, who preceded him to the grave a number of years ago. To this union were born two sons and two daughters: Dr. A. C. Wolf, of Bedford; Jacob Daniel Wolf, Mrs. Ruie McClintic and Miss Mary Wolf, all of whom survive. On April 1st, 1881, he married Mrs. Lucy A. Campbell, who also survives him.

Mr. Wolf was a good citizen, a faithful Christian and an ardent worker in the church, being a teacher in the Sunday School for thirty-six years and Superintendent of the Sunday School for twenty-five. He was also a member of the Teacher-training class in the Sabbath School and having acquired a high average received his diploma at the age of 81 years; after which he taught the Teacher-Training class. He was highly respected by all who knew him and will be greatly missed by his many friends.

Funeral services were held today at the Wolfburg M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Hilbish, assisted by Rev. E. C. Kebach and Rev. J. A. Eyer. Interment in Mt. Smith cemetery.

All Under Our Control.

The whole scheme of our voluntary actions, all that we do from morning to night of every day, is beyond doubt trusted to our control. And from our inmost consciousness we do know that, whenever we will, we can make ourselves execute whatever we are inclined to do in its birth what we want.
